TWO MEN DROWNED TUESDAY

Sand Sucker Turned Turtle in Kenosha Harbor and Two of Crew Drowned

CAUGHT LIKE RATS IN TRAP

Captain Cameron and His Men are Forced to Use Axes to Rescue Survivors of Terrible Disaster

Two men were drowned and six others had a miraculous escape from death at Kenosha just before four o'clock Tuesday morning when the sand sucker H. A. Root owned by the Guehnck & Zube company of Milwaukee, turned turtle in the Kenosha harbor and sank in twenty-six feet of water. The boat sank just east of the O'Donnell docks and was a complete wreck. That any of the members of the crew escaped was a miracle.

The dead are John Miller, aged 35, Milwaukee, single, and John Kodely, aged 22, Milwaukee, single.

John Mooney, aged 43, master of the boat, of Milwaukee, cut from the sinking boat by the life saving crew.

W. R. Hunter, chief engineer, rescued by life savers after terrific battle in the water.

Fred Zube, fireman, saved by his pet dog.

Wm. Huckerman saved by life saving crew.

Frank Kausch, cook, cut out of his berth with a pick ax by life savers.

Captain Mooney is still in a serious condition and is being cared for at the life saving station, but it is thought that he will be able to return to his home soon.

The sand sucker is a complete wreck and the loss to the company will be $12,000.

The sinking of the Root with its fatal termination was one of the most terrible maritime accidents ever known about Kenosha and the life saving crew of the city covered themselves with glory in saving the six men from death under the most drastic circumstances.

Captain Mooney and his crew had brought the Root to Kenosha from Milwaukee on Monday and had loaded her with sand. She had been pulled into the docks at about six o'clock Monday night and the men had retired to their rooms on the boat floor before midnight. Captain Mooney seemed to have a presentiment that all was not right and at midnight he was awakened and made a trip about the boat to see if anything was wrong. Reassured he returned to his berth and heard nothing more until the boat rolled over on the side and he found his apartment rapidly filling with water.

He was sleeping with August Miller, one of the men who was lost in the disaster, and realizing his danger, he called to Miller who was struggling in the water near him. In other parts of the boat the men were caught like rats in a trap and they were left locked in their rooms which were rapidly filling with water.

OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

It is doubtful if any other newspaper in the United States offers so much that is of interest to women and of value in the home as does The Chicago Record-Herald. In the daily issues are to be found a daily pattern suitable for home dressmaking, the daily bill of fare, chatty society news and Mrs. Qui Vive's daily feature of answers upon beauty topics. On Monday appears "Martha's Management," devoted to household and culinary topics, while short light reading for the whole family is always found on the editorial page. On Friday appears Dr. Withrow's comment on the Sunday school lesson, and through the week will be found crisp reviews of the new books. In the Sunday issue a complete section is devoted to women, containing Mrs. Qui Vive's beauty page, "Hints for the Home Dressmaker" by Jeannette Hope, Marion Harland's page, Dame Cursey's "Novelities in Entertainment," society news and many special articles of interest to women. The Sunday Magazine of The Record-Herald is full of good stories, interesting articles on timely topics clever verse, wit, humor and miscellany, with many beautiful illustrations. It has the real magazine flavor.

And No Policeman Near.

"Now that I am no longer married," said the woman, taking the precaution to knock three times on wood, "I never have inflammatory rheumatism. When I was married the last time I had it twice. I don't know why." "I suppose you know," said the Englishman, "that you might call that inflammatory rheumatism! Haw, haw! Joke!"

SURPRISE THEIR FRIENDS

Miss Lottie Barthel and Mr. Fred Bristol Quietly Married Last Spring.

Quite a surprise was sprung upon the friends of Miss Lottie Barthel when it was reported the latter part of last week that she was no longer Miss Barthel but Mrs. Fred Bristol and has been for almost four months. At first the report was scarcely credited but when the young lady was approached on the subject she unhesitatingly admitted it to be a fact.

One Sunday the 19 day of May the young people took a trip to Crown Point, Indiana, where they were made man and wife, but instead of acquainting their friends with the fact they decided to keep the matter a secret until such a time as they should decide to go to housekeeping. So carefully did they guard their secret that no one not even their parents or most intimate friends even guessed it until last week when they concluded to take their friends into their confidence and when the secret was once told it spread with surprising rapidity.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barthel who reside just north of town, and is a well known and popular young lady in this village.

The groom is also quite well known here for although he is not a resident of this community he has been employed in this vicinity and has made many friends during his stay here.

Mrs. Bristol informs us that they are to make their future home in Chicago, where the groom is at present engaged in the moving express business, and that they are now making preparations to begin housekeeping at that place next week.

The News joins with the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Bristol in wishing them a long and pleasant voyage on the matrimonial sea.

LOSES BIG ROLL OF MONEY

Pete Wember Lost Money Through Hole In Pocket.

Pete Wember, of the tenth street district, Waukegan, is $200 poorer because of a hole in the inside pocket of his coat, and some one is probably $200 the richer, and the Wembers, Charley and Pete, are convinced more than ever that a hoodoo is pursuing them.

Monday afternoon, at a quarter to 2 o'clock to provide for the wire mills pay day Pete Wember drew $400 from the security bank, $200 in fives and $200 in tens. He put this into the inside pocket of his coat, which he later discovered to be badly torn.

On his way back to his place of business he stopped in Charley Wember's place of business, going there on the wagon, and from there to Merchant's to buy feed.

He felt in his pockets several times and found that the wad was safe, but when he drove away from Merchant's he found that his precious roll was gone. He went back to Merchant's and found the $200 in fives outside the feed store, but the roll of tens was gone. He had paid for the feed from some small change which he had with him.

The police are working on the case.

TWO LARGE LAKES AMONG ATTRACTIONS OF ARMOUR PLACE

Three miles or more west of the village of Lake Forest the new mansion J. Ogden Armour is building on his 700-acre estate is slowly assuming proportions. It caps the crest of a sloping prairie at the very highest point of the divide between the Skokie and the Desplaines rivers.

A broad boulevard is being constructed leading from the main road out of Lake Forest directly up to the palace. There is to be a big moat and drawbridges and other bridges, some of which are now practically completed. A large viaduct of concrete, and artistic in construction, is being erected over the tracks of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, which runs through the estate. Excavations for two lakes of seven and nine acres each, connected with a lagoon, are being made on either side of the house. These and the auxiliary drive and one of the bridges are being rushed to completion as fast as extra forces of men can do the work, so that the family can move into the new palace by a year from this summer. The landscape work will go on after the family has taken possession of the house, and will require years for its complete development.

On one side of the palace are woods, and far away in the meadows are farm lands, with farms and families just like the tenantry of ancient English estates. In places the river is to be widened to increase its current. Lodges for the caretakers, one at the entrance and one farther back, with a garage near the railroad and stables still farther back, altogether will house a whole colony of people.

Could All Live In America.

Within the limits of these United States each living human being to-day could have 65,000 square feet, or they could be placed 256 linear feet apart.

SWALLOWS POISON IVY AND DIES

Fred Amann, 14 Year Old Boy
Living Near Libertyville
Died Monday Night

SUFFERED UNTOLD AGONY

Was Driving Stock to Fair With Father
When He Accidentally Picked Up the Poisonous Leaf

Monday evening at his home near Libertyville, occurred the death of fourteen year old Fred Amann. His death being due to poison ivy which the lad had taken into his stomach.

The young man was very popular and his horrible death has broken up the whole neighborhood.

In company with his father, young Amann, who is a near neighbor to George Brodgen, was on Tuesday driving some stock to the Libertyville County fair, when he happened to stoop and pick up a leaf that was lying in his path. He was twisting it about between his fingers, when his father chanced to look in his direction. "Drop that leaf, Freddy," commanded the father, the poison ivy.

The young man complied and nothing more was thought about the incident until he returned home. It was then seen that he must have brought his hand contaminated with the poison ivy leaf in contact with his mouth, for that part of his face broke out with horrible eruptions.

The eruptions were not confined to his face for in some manner he must have swallowed some of the poisonous weed. The eruptions broke out inside of his body and for several days the young man suffered untold agony.

A consultation of physicians was summoned but they were not able to relieve the horrible sufferings. The boy died in great agony Monday evening.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the Fremont Center church, interment in that cemetery, where his mother is interred.

CLAM BAKE TO CELEBRATE GALPIN DAY

"Galpin Day" was celebrated by the Woodbine Club at the Worswick cottage at Channahon Lake on Sunday last.

Three special cars for club members and their friends arrived on the Sunday special. All available hayracks and buses were pressed into service to carry the jolly crowd to the lake, where they arrived about twelve o'clock.

A ball game was played during the afternoon at which there was much rivalry for the honor of being the "battery" with Senator Galpin acting as umpire.

The fat man's race, the boat race and the sack races were all exciting and devoid of accidents.

The clam pit which was dug on the shore of the lake was opened at about 3:30 and the hungry crowd sat down to tables loaded with good things such as clams, potatoes, chicken and roasting ears and in fact everything that goes to make these dinners famous, and appetites were soon relieved of their famished condition.

About two hundred of as merry a crowd as could be found were present and a genuine good time was had. A photographer was present with his camera and many pictures were taken, some of which would find ready sale as comic postals.

The crowd returned on the evening train all loud in their praises of the clubs hospitality.

COUNTY CLERKS PICTURES ARE HUNG

Monday morning County Clerk Hendee, had hung in his office the pictures of the four men who have served the county in the capacity of county clerks. The pictures are very fine pieces of work and are nicely framed.

The names of the clerks and the number of years they have served are as follows:

Amos S. Waterman, the first county clerk, four years. J. C. Biddlecom, twelve years. Louis C. Dorsett, thirteen years. A. L. Hendee, the present clerk who has held the office since January 1893.

In this connection it is of further interest to know that Lake County's first clerk, Mr. Waterman is still living. He is now at the county poor farm at Libertyville where he is being cared for by the county. He is about eighty years of age and is said to be very feeble.

FOX LAKE VILLAGE HALL

Converse Marble Seeks Injunction to Prevent Building $10,000 Hall

WILL BUILD HALL ANYWAY

President Brown Says Village's Plans Will Not be Changed Despite Injunction

Converse Marble, of Fox Lake, has brought suit for injunction against J. G. Brown, president of the village of Fox Lake, George W. Koeth, clerk, and Otto Muehroke, T. R. Collins, F. B. Marvin, D. L. Devine, John Bailey and Theodore Olson, with the other trustees, to prevent the erection of the proposed $10,000 village hall at Fox Lake.

Marble charges that the meetings of the board of trustees are secret and that the proceedings on record are meager. He says that the board will soon pass a resolution to issue $10,000 in bonds to build the hall and charges that this is illegal as the value of taxable property in the village is $50,000 and the bond limit is 5 per cent of this or $2,500.

He further charges that the building is not intended as a village hall primarily, but as a dance hall and theater and that the defendants are building it with the proposed bond issue to further their own private ends as saloon and "blind pig" keepers.

In fact he charges specifically that there is a conspiracy among the village board members, all of whom except Devine and Marvin are resort keepers, to build a hall to help their business.

He claims that $500 would answer the same purpose as the $10,000 now proposed as an expenditure. Orvis & Edwards and Paul McGuffin are his attorneys.

The village of Fox Lake will not give up its plans of erecting a village hall despite the sensational action taken Saturday last when Converse Marble started the injunction.

According to President Brown of the village, the village board at its meeting on Sept. 3d, passed a resolution rescinding the action previously taken when it was decided to issue $10,000 in bonds for village hall purposes. The later action contemplates erecting a hall to cost something like $2,000.

The plan therefore is to create a sinking fund of $2,000, $500 to be taken each year from the saloon licenses to redeem those bonds. President Brown states that this action is wholly within the power of the village board and that nobody in the village objects to the course because it will not result in any direct tax on the village.

"The action taken to prevent us issuing bonds of $10,000," said President Brown, "was not necessary because we had changed those plans several days ago and lately had not contemplated such a building. We found it was more than we could swing and before Marble started his action, we had changed them."

"The records of the village are open to everybody who wishes to see them and they are as clear as any village records can be made. They are in the hands of our clerk, Mr. Koeth."

"We can issue more than enough money to build our hall if we wish to and yet keep within the limit of the law. The law says we can issue up to five percent of the assessed valuation and that was $65,000 last year, so, you see we can issue $3,250 if we wish. But we are not going to do this, by creating the sinking fund we will avoid making a direct tax on the people."

We are willing to have the facts known but there has been much misrepresentation by the men who are seeking to gain public sentiment to satisfy their personal feelings on the matter.

Collector of Baby Pictures.

The prince of Wales' pet diversions, next to shooting, are smoking and stamp collecting. Another queer hobby is collecting babies' photographs. The more comical the face of the baby the better its portrait pleases his royal highness. He even collects pictures of babies published as advertisements by proprietors of infants' foods. His collection of postage stamps is worth at least $100,000. So keen a philatelist is he that on several occasions collectors have had to thank him for throwing light on uncertain scientific points concerning the study of stamps.

Girls Have Best Chance.

Of a million girl babies born, 871,286 are alive at 12 months. Of the boys 30,000 fewer live through the first year.

QUAYLE VS. MILLER AT FAIR

Manager of "Game" Fleeces Farmer of $22.50—Captured by Police Officer

It was a duel between Secretary Quayle of the Lake County Law and Order League and President Miller of the Lake County Agricultural Society at the fair last week.

The contest was one of the most novel ever seen, inasmuch as it was neck and neck between the two to see which would get to the gambling games first on the fair grounds and close them up.

Miller made the rounds first, making that his duty all day, and as a result personally closed up and fired from the fair grounds five crooked games.

Quayle came around later with Sheriff Griffin with him, but while he found complaints to make all the really bad games had been closed.

People are largely commending President Miller for his speedy action, which was sure and unmistakably against the grafters, and the fair was safer this year than ever before.

Many of the concession men on the grounds opened innocent little games, for which they had permits, and afterward closed these out and opened grafting games, all of which were stopped.

Having "worked" a farmer by the alleged manipulation of chance tickets in an apparently innocent "game" at the county fair, Morris Howlett was caught in the act and chased by a mob of 200 angry fair patrons Thursday.

Assistant Chief Hicks of the Waukegan police department, proved the fastest runner and caught Howlett, who at once disgorged the $22.50 which it is claimed he had gotten out of the farmer.

He was then escorted to the fair grounds limits and sent on his way without his outfit. The "game" was apparently a harmless one, the fair officials state, but Howlett manipulated the chance tickets, it is claimed in such a manner that he fleeced the farmer of the sum mentioned.

Had the mob instead of the police officer ever caught him it would have gone hard with him, as the anger of the people was fully aroused and they pursued Howlett a yelling, angry, vengeful and determined posse.

FINDS PURSE; LOCATES OWNER; REWARD 25c

One clever reason for the dislike of the very rich on the part of the less fortunate circumstance is shown plainly in the story of a lost pocket book that comes from Lake Forest.

A well known society woman in Lake Forest lost her purse containing a mileage book to New York and about $3 in cash, and it was picked up on the streets of the college town by a man well known in Waukegan.

He telephoned to the woman's house and found that she was out of the city. He telephoned again and she was still gone, so he told of his find and left word that she should call him up.

He received a message when she came home, on telephoning again in the evening just before 6 o'clock that she was too tired to come to the telephone and that he should bring the purse to her.

This he refused to do and soon the coachman came pelting down to his place of business and in the name of the woman demanded the purse.

The Waukegan man naturally refused to surrender it and the woman's father, a millionaire, had his rig hitched up and came down to the young man's office to demand the purse in his turn.

While the young man was telling his troubles to the woman's father, she herself drove up and in an angry tone not at all pleasant to hear, asked for the purse.

The young man made her identify it and after she had done so gave it to her. She abstracted a quarter from between the mileage book and the bills and extended it to him on a daintily gloved finger. He took it and tossed it back into her lap.

"Keep your money," he said, "and learn to be a little more polite and considerate. After this when I find anything of yours I take care that you do not have a chance to claim it. You have treated me little better than a thief (the woman had claimed that some of her precious cash was gone) and I have learned a lesson on how to treat your kind."

A Heroic Remedy.

"They had a hard time with that young woman who went into hysterics, didn't they?" "I should say so! They thought at first they would have to give her anesthetic, but finally they got her quiet with an epidemic infection of morpheus. And now the doctor says she is completely under the influence of the aniline."—Baltimore American.

Getting Points.

"It's just as well before you marry a girl," remarked the observer of events and things, "to take her out on the golf links and see how she can handle a club."—Yonkers Statesman.

BURIED WORKMAN ALIVE

On the Extension of the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric Near Racine

ASLEEP ON A LOADED CAR

Workmen Busily Shoveling Horrified Disinter Legs and Then Body; The Victim Will Recover

Great excitement was caused in Racine about midnight Friday night when a message was sent to police headquarters from the office of the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric Railroad company near the cemetery that 160 Hungarians had been badly hurt and perhaps killed while at work on a dump train about six miles north of that city. The police ambulance was hooked up in short order and started for the depot at the cemetery. When they arrived they found one man lying in the station injured and unconscious and on his coat was badge No. 160. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital and Dr. Nott called to attend him.

From fellow workmen on the train it was learned how the accident happened. Laborer No. 160, name unknown, was with others lying on the top of a dump car loaded with dirt, which was being pushed out to the six-mile dump north of the city. This man fell asleep and when the train reached the dump he failed to get off with the rest and when the car was dumped he went down over the embankment. No one had noticed that he remained on the car nor had they seen him go with the load when it was dumped.

After all the cars had been dumped the men along the side of the tracks began to shovel off dirt which was on the tracks so the cars could return for another load. While engaged in doing so one of them struck a pair of legs with his shovel and he saw a man buried there. Others came to assist him and after several minutes' hard work the fellow was dug out and placed on the train and brought to the station. He was unconscious when rescued. At the hospital the doctor could not find any broken bones. He had suffered several small injuries about the body but none were serious and he will be able to leave the hospital in a few days. He was injured more from suffocation than from being thrown from the car.

WHOLE FAMILY POISONED

Wishing an especially fine dish to eat after supper and before bed time Monday night, Mrs. Steve Dempski of Fourteenth street, North Chicago, prepared some mushrooms that her husband had gathered in the woods and as a result the following were saved from possible death by food poisoning only by two hours of heroic work by Dr. Connell:

STEVE DEMPSKI,
MRS. DEMPSKI,
MISS DEMPSKI, aged 12,
MASTER STEVE DEMPSKI, aged 6,
THE BABY, aged one year, a boy.

Mr. Dempski had been out in the woods gathering mushrooms and the foodstuffs are alleged to have been pointed out to him by some of his friends as especially good. He therefore gathered them.

The family hoarded them Monday night until after supper as a special dainty, and all were taken ill at ten thirty. Dr. Connell was summoned at this hour and found the members of the family in a critical condition that required some tall work.

The children were worst off. The baby hadn't eaten any of the "mushrooms" but had been given one or two to chew upon. He was especially bad. Dr. Connell worked from ten thirty until twelve thirty before he pronounced the Dempski safe. All will recover.

Nature's Eternal Law.

Commit a crime and the earth is made of glass. . . . Some damnable circumstance always transpires. The laws and substance of nature become penalties to the thief. On the other hand, the law holds with eternal sureness for all right action. Love and you shall be loved. . . . The good man has absolute good, which, like fire, turns everything to its own nature, so that you cannot do him any harm.—Emerson.

The Mystery OF Carney-Croft

By JOSEPH BROWN COOKE

(Copyright, 1907, by Story-Press Corporation.)

CHAPTER XIII.

Quiet is restored. "Now then," said MacArdel, the next morning, as we were comfortably seated in the library, "this mystery is clearing itself up more rapidly than I expected. Have you got those two notes with you? I mean the one you found on your bed the other morning and the one that slipped out of your pocket last night?"

I handed them to him and we spread them out on the table and examined them closely. The first was written in a cramped, labored hand which was obviously disguised, while the more recent one had evidently been dashed off hurriedly and with no attempt at masking the orthography of its author. In both instances, however, the English style of writing was so clearly exemplified and there were so many letters having points in common, that it did not require the skill of an expert to perceive that the two notes were the work of the same individual.

"You see," exclaimed MacArdel, "I was right, only I got the cart before the horse. I told you that after we had discovered how the first note was placed on your bed we would have little or no difficulty in tracing its authorship. As matters have turned out, however, we know the author but we don't know how she got the paper into your room. Nevertheless you ought to be satisfied for you remember you said that you cared very little how the letter reached you if you could only find out who wrote it."

"I am not so sure that we know who wrote it even now," I returned, gloomily. "The goings-on in this house are altogether too bewildering to suit my taste."

"Why, it must have been the woman!" cried MacArdel, with emphasis. "Who else could have done it, man? You'll admit that both were written by the same hand, and I hardly think you'll deny that she was responsible for the one we found last night. If she wrote one she must have written the other, too."

"Perhaps she didn't write either," I muttered insistently.

"Oh, rubbish, Ware!" exclaimed MacArdel, impatiently. "What's the use of looking for more mystery when the whole thing is as good as explained! There she was, locked up in that little room across the hall. She couldn't get out, except through the window, and there was only one, which opened on the veranda right beside my chair. But she could look out and see all that was going on, and when we had our little tussle with Jenks, she took it all in from start to finish."

"Now, the widow's no fool, Ware, and as soon as she realized that she and Jenks were completely in our power she wrote this note at the desk in the corner of the room and kept it in her hand until the opportunity came to slip it into your pocket. She wrote hurriedly for she did not know when she would be interrupted and so she had no time to disguise her hand as she did before. She's English the writing's English and I'll warrant the paper in the desk is the same as this she used."

We crossed the hall to the little reception room, and, as MacArdel had suggested, we found the desk open and some stationery strewn about which exactly matched the paper I held in my hand. Moreover, on the floor near by was a lead pencil which, apparently, had been thrown down carelessly so that it rolled off the desk to the place where we discovered it.

The note was in pencil, and, undoubtedly, had been written with this pencil or with one of the same quality of lead.

There seemed to be no room for further argument as to the identity of the author of these remarkable communications, but, while the facts concerning the second were sufficiently plain, much mystery still surrounded the first.

"Hang it all, Mac!" I exclaimed, "I'll have to admit that the widow wrote the notes in spite of myself, but how on earth did she know of my feelings toward Miss Carney? And, what's more, how did she get that letter on my bed?"

"Guessed at it, as far as your first question is concerned," replied MacArdel, cheerfully. "Just used her common sense as to the fitness of the match, and took the chance. That's all there is to it, Ware."

"Even so," I returned, "and I'm hardly willing to admit that your explanation is correct, how did the note get on the bed?"

"Easiest thing in the world," laughed MacArdel. "You were in and out of your room after you made up the bed for the night, weren't you?"

"Why, certainly!" I rejoined. "I fixed it up first and then came down and locked up the house. I must have been out of the room for 15 or 20 minutes after the bed was made."

"Well," he continued, "what more do you want? The woman, or one of her accomplices, evidently has a way of getting in and out of the houses, at pleasure, and while you were fussing around downstairs the note was tucked under a fold of the counterpane with the idea that you would find it when you turned in. As a matter of fact you didn't find it till morning, but you probably slept as well, for all that."

"How about the cigar case?" I asked, with a grin.

"Oh, bother the cigar case!" exclaimed MacArdel. "That was only an incident in this whole plot to scare people away from here. It looks queer, I know, but so did the other things, for a time. We'll find out how it was worked, sooner or later, and, even if we don't, I can't see that it makes any great difference. We know the leaders in this business and we've got them pretty well subdued. All you have to do is to go ahead and open up the place. There won't be any more nonsense when they realize that you don't care a snap of your finger for them or their doings. Just get your servants here all at the same time. Have the house cleared and aired from top to bottom and keep lights burning in the halls all night. Fill the stable with horses as you told me you intended to do, and see that all the servants' cottages on the place are occupied."

"You won't have any trouble, Ware, if you will only take the precaution to have all these people come at the same time, and transform the place into one of bustling activity within a few hours. All you have to do is stamp out this ghost business is to overwhelm it entirely, and there won't be any more of it, I promise you, as soon as the place is running full blast."

MacArdel's idea seemed to be the most practical one that presented itself, and within a few days, the house was filled with workmen and their we keep a sharp lookout. I almost wish they had cut up a row over it at the beginning, rather than have them go on like this. They are nursing their rancor all this while and some day they will try to get their revenge."

A telegram announcing the sailing of Miss Carney and Miss Weston spurred us on to greater efforts and, when at last we were ready to leave for town that I might meet the travelers at the pier, we were both satisfied that our labor had not been in vain.

Carney-Croft looked like its old-time self in its happiest days. The lawns had been cut and sodded, the roads and paths graded and repaired, the shrubs and hedges trimmed, and the flower beds filled with rare and well chosen plants.

Within the house had been cleaned and renovated from garret to cellar and the corps of servants from housekeeper down to kitchen maid, were reliable, capable, and of thoroughly attested respectability, while the stable, with its new horses and trustworthy men, was nowise behind in point of complete reorganization and equipment.

"You've done a great bit of work in the last few weeks," said MacArdel, as we were speeding toward town in the fast express.

"Well," I replied, "my heart was in it, Mac. That accounts for it, I suppose."

The idiotic grin with which he received this remark caused me to blush like a schoolboy, and I turned away from him to the window and watched the ever changing panorama that gilded past as we rushed on toward the city.

CHAPTER XIV.

Return of the Wanderers.

Miss Carney came down the gang plank followed closely by Miss Weston, and greeted me in a way that was plainly sincere.

"How Did the Note Get on the Bed?"

helpers, while the retinue of carefully chosen servants was imported from town, and gave to the establishment an air of permanent occupancy. As many men from the village as could be persuaded to work on the place at all were assigned to the roads and lawns, and every effort was made to beautify and render attractive the entire estate.

I had no hesitancy in authorizing the lavish expenditures which were necessitated by such wholesale rehabilitation of the property, for not only was I assured that anything I might do would meet with the full approval of Miss Carney, but, from my position as her trustee, I knew that the income of the estate would warrant the steps I was taking toward its improvement.

There were no further uncanny manifestations or mysterious happenings of any kind, and Jenks and the widow continued to follow their usual vocations as if nothing out of the ordinary had occurred, so that we were forced to believe that they were living up to the spirit as well as to the letter of their oath.

MacArdel who had remained with me as my guest and companion while this work was in progress, did not half like this submissive behavior on the part of Jenks and the Bruce woman and his suspicions were greatly increased when I ordered the widow out of her cottage to make room for the golf links that Miss Carney wanted laid out.

"Keep an eye on her, Ware," said MacArdel, when I told him how promptly and willingly she had acquiesced in my wishes, and with what seeming gratitude she had accepted the new quarters in which I had installed her. "Watch her carefully, old man," he continued. "She'll be up to some devilry yet, you may be sure. Neither she nor Jenks has breathed a word, even to you or me, about that business the other night, but they haven't forgotten it by any means, and we'll hear from them when we least expect to, unless

"Oh! I am so glad to be home again!" she exclaimed joyously, and her face lighted up with pleasure as she glanced about at the crowd of expectant people that choked up the pier.

"So is Annie, too!" she laughed, laying a hand on Miss Weston's arm and patting it playfully. "She was dreadfully ill all the way across and scarcely left her room until we reached Quarantine this morning. I don't know what seasickness is, myself, and I simply lived on deck. Why, how do you do, Mrs. Randolph! I am so glad to see you!"

Mrs. Randolph, who proved to be Miss Weston's aunt, kissed both young women affectionately and then I was introduced in due form.

"Mrs. Randolph is to be our chaplain," Miss Carney explained, "and as going to Carney-Croft with us as soon as the place is ready. I was wishing this morning that you knew her, for I was sure she would be here and you could have been company for each other while you were waiting for the ship to come up. We used to say, when we lived here, that there seemed to be a fate that kept you two people from meeting one another."

"You had a pleasant trip, I hope?" I asked, solicitously, after expressing my regret that I had missed the pleasure of Mrs. Randolph's acquaintance.

"Delightful, every minute of it!" she rejoined. "If it hadn't been for Annie's seasickness and—"

"And the parson's!" interrupted her friend, with a laugh.

"Yes, the parson's," continued Miss Carney, flushing faintly as a smile flitted across her face. "They were going to some kind of a convention and they were everywhere; in the forecastle, praying with the sailors; in the smoking room casting horrified glances at less sanctified passengers who ventured to drink or play; at the table before the places were fairly laid and—"

Its members are particularly opposed to the open Sunday, and against the sale of liquor on that day. The association therefore requests the mayor and city council to take such steps as will effectually bring about the desired end." So far as known, this is the first petition of the kind on record.

Illinois Day at the Jamestown Exposition

GOVERNOR DENEEN OF CORN STATE AND GOVERNOR SWANSON OF VIRGINIA TO PARTICIPATE SEPT. 14.

Grand Parade and Review of All Troops on the Grounds a Feature of the Day—Dr. Edmund J. James, President of University of Illinois, to Be Chief Orator—Music, Receptions, Illuminations and Fireworks.

WHEN the clans of the great and prosperous state of Illinois set their faces toward their mother state to celebrate a day set apart for them at the Jamestown Tercentennial, they may rest assured a royal good time and a hearty reception await them. This date is Sept. 14, and if anything looking toward the entertainment of the visitors has been omitted in the arrangement of the programme those in charge are not aware of the fact. Reduced railroad rates, special trains, special military attractions, music, receptions, dinners, luncheons, addresses by famous citizens and one continued round of sightseeing and pleasure will mark the day when Illinoisans have open sesame to the great historical exposition on the waters of Hampton Roads. Illinois has a fine building there, and her citizens are proud of the magnificent location accorded them for their building site.

The early history of Illinois is so closely interwoven with that of Virginia that in the historical exhibit of the Old Dominion the citizens of that state may find much of deep interest, the relics, priceless heirlooms and documents comprising that collection being such as never before were exhibited, and this exhibit alone is well worth the journey from the great Mississippi valley state.

The official party, including Governor Charles S. Deneen, Dr. Edmund J. James, president of the University of Illinois; Illinois state commission, various state officers and other distinguished persons, will arrive at the exposition probably Sept. 12 and will spend Sept. 12 and 13 informally visiting the exposition.

Illinois Day Programme.

Following is the programme of the events scheduled for Illinois day:

11:15 a. m.—Governor Deneen and official party, accompanied by the officials of the exposition company and escorted by a platoon of the Twelfth cavalry, will leave the Illinois State building and proceed to the Auditorium, where the Illinois day exercises will take place, beginning at 11:30. Hon. A. G. Tuxhorn, vice president of the Illinois state commission, presiding.

Music.
Address of welcome, Hon. Harry St. George Tucker, president of the Jamestown Tercentennial exposition.

Music.
Address by his excellency Governor Claude A. Swanson of Virginia.

Music.
Response by his excellency Governor Charles S. Deneen of Illinois.

Music.
Address, Dr. Edmund J. James, president of the University of Illinois, orator of the day.

Music, "Star Spangled Banner."

2 p. m.—Luncheon to the governor and official party by the exposition company.

5 p. m.—Parade (or some appropriate exercises) to be reviewed by the governor of Illinois, accompanied by Governor Swanson of Virginia, Mr. Tucker of the exposition and other distinguished persons.

9 to 11 p. m.—Reception at the Illinois State building by the Illinois state commission to the governor of Illinois and Mrs. Deneen. Admission by card only.

Open house will be held at the Illinois State building during the entire day of Sept. 14, to which the public is cordially invited.

Great interest is being shown in the celebration of Illinois state day, and it is confidently expected that large numbers of Illinoisans will be present on that day.

Jamestown Exposition Features.

The largest building on the exposition grounds is the States Exhibit Palace, which is 300 by 600 feet, with 130,000 square feet of floor space and a court 30,000 square feet in area. Ohio has a fine exhibit in this building.

The exposition brings together the largest fleet of war vessels in the history of the world.

The most effective water and land illuminations ever conceived by mortal man can be seen nightly.

The exposition is located upon grounds possessing a greater abundance of natural beauty than those of any other exposition.

The Jamestown exposition commemorates the most important event in the history of the new world, the first permanent English settlement on this continent, 300 years ago.

Jamestown Exposition Notes.

Comprehensive exhibits are made by the department of agriculture, the bureau of fisheries of the department of commerce and labor and the geological survey.

The fireproof Historic Arts palace contains priceless relics, manuscripts, publications and paintings illustrative of the nation's progress for the period of three centuries.

ILLINOIS AT THE FAIR

State Lives Up to Its Traditions at Jamestown Exposition.

COZY COLONIAL BUILDING.

Splendid Lincoln Historical Relics Show Various Scenes in Life of Our Greatest President—Hospitality the Keynote of This State Home.

The great state of Illinois at the Jamestown Tercentennial exposition is more than living up to the traditions of that one time county of the mother of states, Virginia, now one of the first states in the Union, by erecting and maintaining one of the most beautiful state homes at the exposition with that breezy and energetic but hospitable way characteristic of the Illinoisan.

Although this great commonwealth was not one of the first states to break ground at the colonial city by the sea, she was one of the first to have her building completed, and now, with welcome emblazoned on every square foot of the handsome pressed brick edifice, the sons and daughters of Illinois—yes, the sons and daughters of every state—may find rest and hospitality in this western home in an eastern state.

The Illinois building is a two story pressed brick modern residence, a permanent structure costing $15,000. The chairman of the commission, J. A. Humphries, says that in erecting this building the commission got a hundred cents' worth on every dollar invested. The building is 40 by 60 feet and has twelve rooms—six on the first floor and six on the second. Each room has from two to four windows, giving plenty of light. The first floor comprises a reception room, gentlemen's smoking room, ladies' rest room, an office, a kitchen and a room for storage, while the second floor has four large square bedrooms and two baths. There is a wide hall running the entire width of the building, giving the rooms on one side a northern exposure and those on the other side a southern exposure. Each room has a spacious closet large enough for a small bed. The building is situated in the northeast section of the exposition grounds on States avenue, overlooking the historic Hampton Roads, whence a gentle breeze always blows.

The building is beautifully furnished throughout with the most modern and sanitary furnishings. The walls are adorned with letters and pictures of the Lincoln historical collection. Upon entering the broad reception room the visitor sees on the left hand wall a large portrait of the martyred President Lincoln, on the wall direct-

The Lincoln historical exhibit is the finest of its kind in the country, and the public is indeed fortunate in having the opportunity of going minutely over this rare collection of letters and papers of the greatest president of the United States.

There is a portrait of the president and his cabinet at the reading of the emancipation proclamation, a frame containing letters of Mr. Lincoln to cabinet officers and friends from 1861 to 1865, a frame of the early educational instruction of the president, consisting of his copy book and arithmetic sheets and spelling; the Jubilee and McKendree colleges and the capitol of Illinois, a frame of letters of Stephen A. Douglas, a view of early Chicago and one of modern Chicago, a frame containing some of Lincoln's drawings and mathematical problems at the time he was surveyor, a picture of his birthplace and the school and meeting house of his youth, the home of John Hanks, upon whose farm Lincoln split rails; a picture of the president's step-mother, Sarah Bush Lincoln; the ancestry of the Lincolns, the old stockade on Floyd's creek, Jefferson county, Ky., where Lincoln at one time lived; the marriage certificate of Lincoln's parents, the Lincoln cabin in Larue county, Ky.; Lincoln's marriage, his family, his domestic life; the home of Mary Todd, Lincoln's wife; pictures and clippings from newspapers of 1860, during Lincoln's campaign; the Wigwam at Chicago, where the Republican national convention nominated Lincoln for president; a picture of Ford's theater, Washington, where Lincoln was assassinated, and pictures connected with the death and burial of Lincoln.

There are also pictures of General U. S. Grant, his birthplace and his homes before and after he went to West Point.

The host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Humphries of Chicago, reside in this beautiful building. Strangers, whether from Illinois or other states, are made welcome. Many a night has the tired and weary sightseer been taken in and made comfortable. The entertainments and receptions held in this building have become famous through the charming manner in which they are conducted by this popular host and hostess. Illinois may well consider itself fortunate in having such genial and hospitable representatives at the Tercentennial.

Several of the commissioners from time to time spend some days with Mr. and Mrs. Humphries.

The Illinois commissioners are Thomas Nowers of Atkinson, R. W. Molnes of Belvidere, A. G. Tuxhorn of Edwardsville, Thomas H. Creighton of Fairfield, Fred A. Kinzel of Mattoon, W. A. Humphrey of Chicago and Nathaniel Holdberry of Carmi.

ILLINOIS DAY EVENT.

Great Aeroplane Flights at the Jamestown Exposition.

NOTED INVENTORS ENTERED.

Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, Peter Cooper Hewitt and Others Have Machines in This Cup Race of the Most Interesting Type of Airship.

Airship flights for a thousand dollar cup will be the feature for aeroplane day at the Jamestown exposition on Sept. 14, which is also Illinois day. Many prominent members of the Aero Club of America and a number of well known aeronautical men of Europe will be the guests of the exposition.

The feature of the day will be the competition for the Scientific American flying machine trophy, in which will be entered only flying machines of the heavier than air type.

In an interview with Israel Ludlow, director of aeronautics of the Jamestown exposition, the first list of the probable contestants has been secured.

In August Mr. Ludlow will put the finishing touches on his latest aeroplane, which will enter the contest. The aeroplane was tried out during that month.

This machine is 40 by 25 feet in size and twice as large as any heretofore constructed by Mr. Ludlow. When it enters the Scientific American contest Captain T. T. Lovelace will be the navigator. The machine is on a pontoon boat, and its designer expects to have a torpedo boat to tow it on the day of the contest.

Others expected to participate in this contest are Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, on boat; Peter Cooper Hewitt, on boat, and the largest aeroplane ever constructed, weighing 9,000 pounds and forty-five feet in length; A. M. Her-ring, machine on wheels; G. Whitehead, Bridgeport, Conn., on wheels; G. Curtis Gillespie, Brooklyn, on wheels; John F. Holland, the inventor of the submarine boat, a flapping wing device; Albert Dufour, Milwaukee, Wis., a machine separated by shooting down a forty foot slide.

The contest will take place over Lee's Parade grounds and the waters of Hampton Roads, just off the exposition grounds. The rules governing the competition, which have been published, were formulated by the Aero Club of America. The trophy offered by the Scientific American is valued at $1,000, and it is open to competition by inventors the world over.

This will be the inauguration of a series of competitions which in the future will be held annually.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS.

ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS.

A REPUBLICAN NEWSPAPER.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY
A. B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

By Mail, One Dollar per Year, in Advance

Telephone, Antioch No. 402.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The last meeting of the directors of the Illinois Central demonstrated that even a Fish will turn.

Governor Hughes continues to explain why he opposes the very policies for which the President stands. Perhaps that is good politics—but we doubt it.

When the Secretary of Agriculture returned to Washington from his western trip, he brought word of "bumper crops" and "unparalleled prosperity." It is most trying for the Wall Street calamity howlers to have a cabinet officer so oblivious to their calamitous predictions.

The poor old Democracy is having an awful time with itself trying to find a substitute for its once "peerless leader," but the Hon. William J. is doing no worrying.

He knows that Democratic principles don't make presidential candidates these days, and that after all, the Democracy will have to accept a populist.

They say that Lieutenant Governor Chandler's cousin would pay $1,000,000 into the Democratic campaign fund in his brother were made the presidential nominee and would promise to make him Ambassador to Great Britain. How the thought of that million must make the throats of the thirsty Democratic politicians water.

There is need of a "national" edition of the patriotic songs of this nation, and it is proposed that the Grand Army of the Republic join hands with the National Educational Association and secure the publication of such work. At present our national songs, such for instance, as "The Star Spangled Banner," are issued in various forms, both as to words and music, in accordance with the theory or whim of each publisher, and the difficulties of training large choruses to sing these songs, with which every American citizen should be familiar, is seriously enhanced. No more fitting organization could undertake this work than the Grand Army of the Republic, and it is to be hoped that the suggestion will be seized upon with avidity.

Should the tariff be revised, and if so, when? Probably there is no question so hotly debated, nor on which there is a greater difference in the Republican party than this, and it is, moreover, in the opinion of some of the ablest of the party leaders, the one proposition of which the opposition may be able to make some party capital. That the tariff schedules should not be touched by the approaching Congress is very generally conceded, and the reasons advanced for postponement of the important work are all sufficient. Were the coming Congress to make any changes from the Dingley schedules, its action would be distorted and misrepresented by the Democratic press and by Democratic stump speakers, and before the people would have had time to learn the falsity or fallacy of such charges and arguments they would be called upon to express at the polls their views in a national election. Men who had been told that their business would be seriously injured, if not ruined, would fear the worst and probably vote against those whom they held responsible, only to learn too late that they had been misled and deceived. The policy advocated by the President, by Secretary Taft and other leaders of the party, however, contemplates a special session of Congress, called immediately after the new President shall have been inaugurated and called solely for the purpose of examining the tariff schedules and altering such as may, by changed conditions, have become disproportionate. Practically four years will then elapse before another national election, two years before another congressional election, and by that time the people will have learned for themselves the truth concerning a Republican revision, or readjustment. That the tariff requires some readjustment is asserted by the ablest students of the subject, with the single exception of the representatives for those industries which are now enjoying unfair profits as a result of the existing schedules. For instance, the manufacturers of almost every type of machinery insist that they cannot benefit from the improved methods of manufacturing steel, and thus purchase their raw material as reasonably as they should, until the tariff on steel is reduced. The only opponent of such reduction appears to be the Steel Trust. Other manufacturers maintain that their business will increase when some of the materials they are compelled to buy are reduced by a decrease in the existing schedules. It is urged that it requires experts to determine what reduction may properly be made, but a Republican Congress can always consult such experts. It made the Dingley law and proved it was able to frame a tariff law that was both wise and just, and to assert that a Republican Congress cannot alter to meet changed conditions the tariff law which it has made is practically to assert that the creature is greater than the creator. The advocates of no change appear to forget that those who urge revision are not advocating revision by the Democrats, who are always hostile to the protective system, but readjustment by men who believe heartily in the policy of protection and who will no more sacrifice American industries today, or two years from now, than they did when they replaced the ridiculous Wilson-Gorman tariff bill with the Dingley law.

Swan.

Giving Him a Hard Task. Instructor in Public Speaking—What is the matter with you, Mr. Brown? Can't you speak any louder? Be more enthusiastic. Open your mouth and throw yourself into it!

Pain anywhere, pain in the head, painful periods, neuralgia, toothache, all pains can be promptly stopped by a thoroughly safe little pink candy tablet known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets. Pain simply means congestion—undue blood pressure at the point where pain exists. Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets quickly equalize this unnatural blood pressure, and pain immediately departs. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., and get a free trial package. Large box 25c. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling home of Swamp-Root, in all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Easy. One of the easiest ways in which a woman can cease to claim her husband's affection is by constantly letting him know that she fears he may be lured by the superior charms of other women.

The Touch That Heals. Is the touch of Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's the happiest combination of arnica flowers and healing balsams ever compounded. No matter how old the sore or ulcer is, this salve will cure it. For burns, scalds, cuts, wounds or piles, it's an absolute cure. Guaranteed by J. H. Swan, druggist. 25c.

Comparing Notes. "My teacher's name is Brown," said the first little girl. "My teacher's name," replied the other little girl, "is Davis, but I don't know what color it is."

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and hard colds on the chest. Ask your doctor about it.

The best kind of a testimonial—"Sold for over sixty years." Made by J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Also manufacturers of SARSAPARILLA PILLS. HAIR VIGOR. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines. Ayer's Pills increase the activity of the liver, and thus aid recovery.

Stomach troubles, heart and kidney ailments, can be quickly corrected with a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The prompt and surprising relief which this remedy immediately brings is entirely due to its restorative action upon the controlling nerves of the stomach, etc. A weak stomach, causing dyspepsia, a weak heart with palpitation or intermittent pulse, always means weak stomach nerves or weak heart nerves. Strengthen these inside or controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly these ailments disappear. Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis., will mail samples free. Write for them. A test will tell. Your health is certainly worth his simple trial. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Driven to Succeed. Civilization is built up by the appetite of humanity for luxuries. The extravagance of a man's wife is often one of the reasons why the man worked hard and built up a huge business and a huge fortune.—Irish Home-stead.

Fresh Butter.

If cooperative dairies were started throughout England, and their butter was sent to the towns the same day as it is made, breakfast would have a new savor, and the British farmer would have a new and enlarged profit. Good butter, direct from the churns, is a food for the gods. Its flavor lingers caressingly on the palate.—Yorkshire Post.

There are a great many people who have slight attacks of indigestion and dyspepsia nearly all the time. The food may satisfy the appetite but it fails to nourish the body simply because the stomach is not in its condition to do the work it is supposed to do. It can't digest the food you eat. The stomach should be given help. You ought take something that will do the work your stomach can't do. Kodol for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, a combination of natural digestants and vegetable acids, digests the food itself and gives strength and health to the stomach. Pleasant to take. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Health in the Canal Zone.

The high wages paid make it a mighty temptation to our young artisans to join the force of skilled workmen needed to construct the Panama Canal. Many are restrained however by the fear of fever and malaria. It is the knowing ones—those who have used Electric Bitters, who go there without this fear, well knowing they are safe from malarious influence with Electric Bitter on hand. Cures blood poison too, biliousness, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Guaranteed by J. H. Swan, druggist. 50c.

Washing in the Philippines.

"I am glad to get back home," said the bronzed young soldier, "because I'll be able to get some washing done now. They don't understand washing in the Philippines. They don't pretend to get the dirt out of your clothes. They take them down to the river—the water is salty—soak them in, lift them out, lay them on a board, and pound them full of holes and break all the buttons with big stones that they hold in each hand. To conclude, they smooth them out with a stick."

Dr. Liebig, the famous German Chemist, says that beer is "liquid bread." By this he means that beer is a food—full of life-giving, health-sustaining qualities. The value of beer as a food is becoming well known, and it is now used by many who have hitherto looked upon it as a beverage only.

Pabst Blue Ribbon

The Beer of Quality

is the most nourishing of all beers—because it contains every particle of the healthful, wholesome nutriment of the malt and all the tonic properties of the hops from which it is made. The Pabst Eight-Day Malting Process follows nature by slowly transforming the substance of the barley into pure, nutritious food. The quality of the materials used and the Pabst method of brewing make Pabst Blue Ribbon not only a pure beer, but a healthful, tissue-building, muscle-building, life-giving, "liquid bread." Drink Pabst Blue Ribbon, and you put health and strength into your system.

When ordering beer, ask for Pabst Blue Ribbon.

ROCK ISLAND EXPRESS TRAIN
CRASHES INTO A FREIGHT.

DOZEN OTHERS INJURED

Horrible Accident at Norris, Ia.—
Smoking Car of Passenger Is Telescoped and Utterly Demolished.

Waterloo, Ia.—Twelve persons were killed and 12 others injured in the wreck of an express train on the Rock Island railroad at Norris, Ia., Friday. The express train, which was northbound, jumped the track while going at full speed and collided with a freight train standing on the siding.

The dead: P. B. Cliver, Waterloo, Ia.; Will Goodman, Waterloo, Ia.; John N. Watson, Waterloo, Ia.; C. L. Landphere, Shell Rock, Ia.; W. Ray Johnson, Dike, Ia.; B. R. Christy, Minneapolis, Minn.; Lepovan Toja, Hammond, Ia.; laborer, name unknown, Hammond, Ia.; W. H. Meyers, baggageman, Burlington, Ia.; three unknown men.

The injured: J. A. Newell, Illinois Central conductor, Waterloo, Ia.; John Shaw, Waterloo, Ia.; Dr. C. J. Keefe, Marble Rock, Ia.; J. H. Douglas, Waterloo, Ia.; Thomas Evenson, Mora, Minn.; O. H. Martin, mail clerk, West Liberty, Ia.; Edward Steppierre, Minneapolis, Minn.; Trocien Crismon, St. Paul, Minn.; H. McMahon, fireman, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; Albert Mason, engineer, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; F. Kinch, engineer, Cedar Rapids, Ia.

The injured were brought to Waterloo and placed in the Presbyterian hospital.

Victims in Smoker.

Nearly all of the dead and injured were in the smoking car, which was immediately behind the baggage and mail cars. The smoking car was completely demolished.

The northbound express was ten minutes late at Norris siding, which is a small station three miles north of Cedar Falls, Ia., and there a southbound freight train was awaiting the express, which came thundering along at a terrific speed in an effort to make up time.

Crashed Into Freight Train.

Just as the engine of the express was about to pass the freight engine the trucks of the express jumped the track and the engine crashed with terrible force into the engine of the freight, wrecking both engines and telescoping the baggage and mail cars and demolishing the smoking car. The passengers in the two day coaches following the smoker escaped with only a violent shaking up.

Rescuers were immediately at hand to care for the injured and to take the dead from among the wreckage.

Dr. Keefe's Heroism.

Sitting in the midst of the wreckage was Dr. Charles J. Keefe, who, although badly injured, little realized how seriously he was hurt. With heroic fortitude, while suffering intense pain, he waved the rescuers aside and directed them to the assistance of those whom he thought were in a more serious condition than himself, for in front of him and behind him on all sides were men writhing and groaning in the agony of their sufferings.

Physicians and hospital attendants were hastily taken to Norris on a special train made up in this city and, pending their arrival, such medical relief as the little station afforded was given the injured.

TEN DEAD IN HOTEL FIRE.

Serious Loss of Life in Disaster at Shelton, Wash.

Tacoma, Wash.—Ten persons are known to have lost their lives in the burning of the Webb hotel at Shelton, 20 miles from here, early Thursday morning. Another person is dying and yet others may be found in the ruins.

The fire was discovered about 1:40 in the morning. It had started in the hotel annex, probably from a lighted cigar dropped in the sample room. The hotel was a three-story structure. The top floor was occupied by lodgers, but the exact number is not known.

Within a few minutes of the time the fire was discovered the hotel was a mass of flames. Screams and cries for help were coming from almost every window and dozens of people risked their own lives to help bring out the unfortunates. Those in the upper stories were cut off from the stairway and seven or eight jumped from the windows before help could reach them from the outside.

FARMERS SHOULD BUY COAL

BIG STOCKS HAVE BEEN SHIPPED INTO NORTH DAKOTA.

Commissioner Lane Finds Railways
Are Doing Their Part to Avert
Another Fuel Famine.

St. Paul. — Franklin H. Lane of the interstate commerce commission, is in St. Paul conferring with representatives of western railroad lines in respect to the coal and grain transportation situation and the possible repetition of the shortage and car congestion of a year ago. The commissioner desires to acquaint himself in advance with the probable shortages in coal or cars.

Commissioner Lane Thursday held a conference with President Louis W. Hill, W. H. Begg and W. W. Broughton, of the Great Northern railway. From statements made by the railway men, the situation in respect to the coal supply in North Dakota seemed to be that an extra large amount of coal has been transported over the Great Northern road to the retail coal dealers of North Dakota towns and cities, but this large supply has not been purchased by the farmers.

As to about 90 per cent. of the retail coal dealers, it appears that they have enlarged their shed capacity and have stocked up to the limit and will not at present handle any more coal.

In Montana, Idaho and eastern Washington the situation is less hopeful.

There is an indication of heavy shipments of coal direct from Duluth to the west.

From the testimony offered by the Great Northern railway men and from conclusions reached by Commissioner Lane, it would seem that the situation would be relieved greatly if the farmers would stock up with coal now, rather than wait until later in the season.

The commissioner expects to remain here about three days and on Friday will hear representatives of the Northern Pacific.

BIG FAILURE ON 'CHANGE.

Watson & Co., Grain and Stocks,
Forced to Wall.

New York.—The failure of Watson & Co., members of the New York Stock and Produce exchanges, and of the Chicago Board of Trade, was announced in those exchanges Thursday. No cause was assigned for the failure nor was any estimate of the liabilities and assets made public.

The firm has had extensive connections in the west, maintaining offices in Duluth, Minneapolis, Fargo and Winnipeg. It is said to have carried on one of the biggest grain brokerage businesses in the country besides trading actively in railroad stocks, particularly those of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads.

The members of the firm are Louis T. Watson, Henry P. Watson, Charles E. Anderson and Herchell V. Jones. Louis T. Watson is the only member of the firm residing in this city, the others being residents of Minneapolis.

ROBBERS DYNAMITE A BANK.

Take $8,000 from Institution in Frankfort, S. D.

Frankfort, S. D.—The James River bank, at this place, was dynamited between two and four o'clock Friday morning and the robbers escaped with $8,000 in cash and valuable papers.

Seven charges of dynamite were used in blowing up the vault and the safe. Persons aroused by the explosion were prevented from interfering by guards who were stationed at the front and rear of the bank. Frank Fitzpatrick, a hotel guest, who sought to break through the line of guards, was shot. He was not dangerous. Many shots were fired to hold on-lookers at bay.

After looting the bank the robbers broke into a section house on the Chicago & Northwestern railway and secured a handcar on which they made their escape.

CLIFF HOUSE IS DESTROYED

FAMOUS LANDMARK IN SAN FRANCISCO
BURNED DOWN.

Was a Favorite Shrine of Pilgrimage to the Golden Gate City—Loss is $50,000.

San Francisco, Cal.—The Cliff house, San Francisco's first attraction for tourists, was burned to the ground. The fire started about 5 o'clock and an hour later a blackened heap of ruins was all that remained of the famous structure.

The house was built of wood, and, fanned by a lively ocean breeze, the flames made such headway before the nearest fire company arrived that it was realized that the place was doomed, and more attention was paid to saving adjoining property than to the burning building. The Cliff house had been closed for some time, as the new lessee, John Taft, was remodeling the interior. Workmen were about the place until noon and then departed for the day. How the fire started is a mystery.

This was the second Cliff House to be destroyed by fire. The building which was destroyed by fire was built about 20 years ago by Adolph Sutro of Sutro tunnel fame. It was owned by the Sutro estate and was valued at $50,000.

The Cliff House was ranked as one of the best known resorts of America. Located on a rocky promontory outside the city, directly above the surf of the Pacific and overlooking the famous Seal rocks, it was a strong attraction for visitors, and from its broad porches hundreds of thousands of people obtained their first view of the Pacific.

CANNOT DISMISS CADETS.

Col. Howze Lacks Authority in the West Point Difficulty.

Washington.—If Col. Howze, commandant of cadets at West Point, threatened to dismiss a whole class because the members sent one of their number to "Coventry," he overrated his authority, according to the officials of the war department. The power of dismissal in such cases is not confined to any official of lower rank than the president. The extent of the commandant's power would be temporarily to suspend the offending cadets and to recommend dismissal, first to the superintendent of the academy, Col. Scott, and then to the secretary of war and the president.

War department officials do not believe, however, that Col. Howze went to this length, and they feel confident that the matter is one that can be handled by the faculty and the superintendent of the academy without reference to the department.

WARM FIGHT IN CLEVELAND.

Burton-Johnson Contest for Mayoralty to Be Lively.

Cleveland, O.—The contest between Mayor Tom L. Johnson and Congressman Theodore E. Burton, as the Democratic and Republican nominees, respectively, for mayor of Cleveland, promises to be the most exciting political event in the history of this city, not excepting campaigns some years ago in which the late Senator Hanna was the central figure.

The endorsement of Mr. Burton's candidacy by President Roosevelt and Secretary of War Taft, it is said, may be followed by speeches here by both later on in the campaign. The president is to start from Cleveland on the coming trip of the inland waterways commission on its tour of inspection and investigation on the Great Lakes and down the Mississippi river, and Republican leaders believe that while here he may be induced to make a speech urging Burton's election.

Cleveland is regarded as a normally Republican city by from 7,000 to 10,000 majority in national elections, and up to the advent of Mayor Johnson six years ago the Republicans had ruled the city and county for years with the exception of isolated cases, such as the election of Mayor Farley, following the defeat of the McKisson administration.

In selecting Mr. Burton to oppose Mayor Johnson, the Democratic leaders admit that the Republicans have put forward their strongest man, and while they claim Johnson will win they concede privately that it is anybody's race. It was Burton who defeated Johnson after the latter had served two terms in congress. Since that campaign Mr. Burton has continued to represent the district in congress.

OIL TRUST INDICTED AGAIN.

True Bills Returned Against It and Two Railroads.

Jamestown, N. Y.—An investigation which was begun before the federal grand jury in this city early in July was concluded Friday and the jury discharged by Judge Hazel, of the western district of New York. Before adjournment the jury found four indictments, one each against the Standard Oil company, the New York Central Railroad company, the Pennsylvania Railway company, and one against the two railroads jointly.

The indictment against the Standard Oil company and those against the railway companies separately contained 54 counts, all of them charging a violation of the interstate commerce law, either in accepting or granting rebates on oil shipments from Olean to points in Vermont. The law provides a penalty of $20,000 for each provision violated or each count; therefore, if convictions are made according to the indictments returned, the three companies will be subject to a total fine of $876,000.

AUTO RACES FATAL

MAN KILLED ON BRUNOS ISLAND
TRACK NEAR PITTSBURG.

CHRISTY BADLY INJURED

Racing Machine of Noted Driver
Strikes Wrecked Car—Mechanic
And Policeman Also Are Hurt.

Pittsburg, Pa.—One man is dead and three others more or less seriously injured as a result of two accidents at a series of automobile races that were held at the Brunos Island track near this city Monday.

The dead man is Rex Rainersten, 35 years old, president of the Automobile Repair company of this city, who died of a fractured skull while being taken to a hospital.

Walter Christy, 26 years old, of 518 West Eighteenth street, New York city, who was one of the drivers in the Vanderbilt cup races at Mineola, Long Island, fractured his right arm and sustained scalp wounds and bruises of the body. It is also feared he has been internally injured.

Clarence Dastion, who was mechanic for Rainersten and was riding with him at the time, received injuries to the spine that are serious, beside bruises and cuts. Dastion lives in Allegheny.

Policeman Frank Farnol, of Allegheny, was struck by one of the flying cars and hurled about 50 feet. He was badly cut and bruised.

Rainersten was driving in a race called the 50-mile derby and was on the thirteenth mile, when at a turn one of the front tires came off and the machine turned over. Rainersten and Dastion were caught beneath the car, while a score of other contestants shot by. Women screamed and fainted. Crowds swarmed over the track and the race had to be stopped.

The wrecked car was left at the edge of the track and Christy, while trying for a new track record, made too wide a turn and crashed into it.

JOE GANS DEFEATS BRITT.

California Boy Breaks His Wrist in Fourth Round.

San Francisco.—A left swing to the body, cleverly blocked by Joe Gans, cost Jimmy Britt any chance he might have had to win the lightweight championship of the world and brought to a close five rounds of fast fighting, witnessed by a crowd of about 14,000 people at Recreation park.

The blow caught by Gans on his elbow was struck in the middle of the fourth round. It broke Britt's wrist, and though he went on again in the fifth round, he was helpless in both offense and defense. It was not until this round that he informed his seconds of the mishap.

MOUNTAINEERS MOB TRAIN.

Beaten Off by the Crew in a Pistol Battle.

Bristol, Va.—Because one of their number had been forcibly ejected, a band of mountaineers stopped a passenger train on the Virginia & Southwestern, in Carter county, Tennessee, and attacked the conductor and train crew. A battle followed in which pistols were used freely. Capt. Robert Carnahan, the conductor, and Brakemen R. B. Taylor and A. D. Cross had a narrow escape, the latter being badly beaten. Dan Berry, who was ejected from the train and who took the lead in the attack, was captured, while his companions were beaten off.

WILL MAKE MOROCCO PAY.

French Cabinet Decides to Demand Indemnity.

Paris.—A special meeting of the cabinet was held Monday to consider the Moroccan situation. The following conclusions were reached:

1. The Moroccan government should be held responsible for the massacre of July 30 at Casablanca, as well as for the loss suffered as a result of the pillage and in the repression of disorders.

2. Indemnities should be fixed by an international commission.

Race War Is Threatened.

San Francisco.—Race trouble is threatened at Berkeley as the result of the arrest of Allen Vaughan, a negro, charged with the attempted murder of several white citizens. The negro, it is alleged, stood behind a car and fired at J. A. Mason and two other white men, all of whom were wounded. The negro was arraigned Monday and held for the grand jury. He was trailed to his home near Berkeley within 26 minutes after the scent was taken up by the bloodhounds.

Want Special Flag Day.

Sandusky, O.—An effort is to be made by the members of the United Spanish-American war veterans to have December 1, next, observed as a special flag day in honor of the sailing of the fleet of warships for the Pacific coast in command of Admiral Evans. A motion to this effect was presented by Past Commander Charles R. Miller, of Cleveland, at the opening of the fourth annual encampment of the veterans at Cedar Point Monday. The motion was adopted with cheers and a waving of flags.

IN THE SUPERLATIVE DEGREE.

Little Son's Explanation Seemed to Cover the Case.

Little son, aged seven, whose training has been of the most painstaking and conscientious, rather took away his mother's breath in describing the dog's game of ball. He ended with: "And, mother, Topsy caught the ball in her mouth, and then just ran like h—!"

"Like what?" cried the startled mother.

"W'y, like h—, don't you know, mother?" innocently.

"No, I don't believe I do. Just how is that, dear?" she asked faintly.

"Well, I don't know jus' what it means, myself," he confessed, "but it's a whole lot faster than 'flekety-spitt!'"

BRUTALITY OF MEDICAL ETHICS.

A Great Surgeon Barred from Membership in Medical Association.

(From the National Druggist for June, 1907.)

Dr. Augustus Charles Bernays, who died a few days ago in St. Louis, was, probably, the foremost surgeon in the United States. His fame was co-extensive with the civilized world. He was not only an operator of the highest order, but a tireless and exhaustive worker in the field of original surgery. He performed the first successful Caesarian section in 1889 in St. Louis, and also the first successful coelotomy for gunshot wound of the abdomen and the first gallstone operation in Missouri. A record held by Dr. Bernays has never been equaled: Out of eighty-one successive cases of appendicitis which necessitated operations, seventy-one in succession were with perfectly satisfactory results, the seventy-second patient failing of recovery, but the subsequent nine cases were successfully treated.

And yet, with such a record, matchless as was his skill, varied and extensive as was his learning, wonderful as were his accomplishments, he was not considered, by the American Medical Association, as worthy of membership in that organization.

No charges were ever brought against him which, in the remotest degree, reflected on his qualifications as a surgeon; his moral character was never the subject of attack; he was never accused of having done anything unbecoming a man or a gentleman. "The head and front of his offending had this extent—no more!" He dared to think! He refused to mold his opinions and to govern his actions by the arbitrary rules which those whom he knew to be his inferiors had set up for his guidance! In other words, he could not regard the Code of Ethics of the American Medical Association as being inspired, or having any binding authority on him where his judgment told him it was wrong. And so, twenty years ago or more, on account of some trivial infraction of this sacred "Code," a movement was started to expel him from the local association, which was only defeated by his hastily sending in his resignation. As membership in the A. M. A. is dependent upon membership in the local and State societies, his name was dropped by the national organization.

And so, though he had saved thousands of lives; though other physicians had profited by his art; this brilliant surgeon; this great and able man, has, during all these years, been an outcast—a medical "scab"; not recognized as "ethical" or worthy of fellowship by that body of physicians banded together in the American Medical Association!

And this is the association which, under pretense of working for the public good, is, in reality, only seeking to control Congress and the State Legislatures in the interest of their own selfish schemes; which is trying to create a Cabinet position and to place one of its members in that position; which is endeavoring by law to exclude from the use of the mails, all manufacturers of medicines who do not comply with the absurd requirements that they choose to set up; which, in short, is trying to put upon the statute books of State and nation laws that will, in effect, establish a kind of medical priesthood, to which only their own members will be eligible with power and control over the health and lives of the people!

God help the druggists, the drug manufacturers, physicians not members of their guild, and the people generally, if this association ever succeeds in its undertaking. If it does, it will, after the fashion of the labor unions, dictate a "closed shop," and say to doctors who prefer to be independent, "You must join our union or, failing to do so, compel them to get out of the business. It will say what medicines shall be taken, and how they shall be made. It will hedge the people about with a lot of petty regulations under pretense of protecting the public health. In fine, a medical bureaucracy will be established to tyrannize over the people.

Let no man call this a false alarm. If there are those who are inclined to do so, let them read the journal of the A. M. A. Let them scan the proceedings of the association, held always behind closed doors, and carefully edited, as they are, before they are published in its official organ. If they will do this they will see that we are not trying to create a bugaboo to frighten their timid souls.

Oldest Congregational Church.
The Pilgrim Congregational church, near London, founded in 1616, is the oldest of the denomination in the empire, and it was from it that the London contingent of the men of the Mayflower was recruited.

CANNOT AGREE ON STATUE.

Mrs. Sheridan and Famous Sculptor Differ in Opinion.

The failure of J. Q. A. Ward to satisfy either himself or Mrs. Sheridan in a design for the proposed statue of Gen. Sheridan, in Washington, is not a surprise to those who have followed the case for nearly a score of years, nor does it lessen the distinction of the venerable sculptor who has produced much worthy work and done more to elevate his profession than any living American. Mrs. Sheridan, like most people who have lost their loved ones by death, has idealized the manly attributes of her distinguished husband. To be acceptable a design must realize these ideals, as well as those enshrined in the memory of those to whom the original was "Little Phil," and the committee's idea of art, as well as the modeler's own conception of the man to be honored by the effigy.

Too much care cannot be taken in the selection of public monuments, especially when designed for the national capital where the world expects to find America's best expression of her standards. Paradoxical as it may seem, there is in Washington, at the present time, much poor sculpture and yet, nowhere can the history of American sculpture be so well studied. St. Gaudens' masterpiece, the Adams memorial is there, also Daniel French's charming Gallaudet group; the Nicholas Hahnemann statue and the Ward equestrian statue of Gen. Thomas, which is regarded as one of the best specimens of the kind in the entire country.

SAW CHANCE FOR ECONOMY.

Pertinent Suggestion Made to Member of Congress.

There is a member of congress from a southwestern state who is pretty well known in Washington for his delight in the pleasures of the table. Particularly is he fond of roasted ears of corn, a delicacy he never omits an opportunity to indulge.

On one occasion, so runs the story, the congressman was in a restaurant in Texas, when the waiter placed upon the table a plateful of the dish mentioned. The statesman proceeded to help himself.

When he had consumed the fourth ear of corn, he noticed that a man across the table was eyeing him most curiously. Thinking that some explanation was necessary, the representative good-naturedly informed the stranger that roasted corn was one of the most nutritious and palatable of foods. Then he gathered unto himself a fifth ear, which he devoured with great relish.

The man across the table could stand it no longer.

"My friend," he suggested, "don't you think you could save about a dollar and a half a day if you were to board in a livery stable?"—Harper's Weekly.

Eminent Government Employee.

Notable among the government employees in Washington is that scholarly gentleman, Mr. Worthington Ford, brother of the late ill-fated novelist Paul Leicester Ford. Mr. Ford is a man of wealth and culture, with a beautiful suburban home at Cleveland Park, near President Cleveland's old home of "Red Top," five miles from the city. Here he entertains liberally and delightfully. Mr. Ford is a bibliomaniac and his house abounds in priceless old volumes and manuscripts. For sheer love of the work this unusual man fills a comparatively obscure position as chief of the manuscript division of the library of congress, where he handles many of the most valuable documents in the world. Mr. Ford is an authority on the value and antiquity of rare writings. He has as much literary genius as his more famous brother Paul Leicester, the author of "The Honorable Peter Sterling," although he is not a professional. He contributes considerably, however, to the better magazines. The interesting collection of manuscripts from the library of congress now at the Jamestown exposition were selected and sent by Worthington Ford. He is a man of uncommon personal charms, who is much sought after in the more cultured social circles at the capital. Authors are his most frequent house guests. Mr. and Mrs. Ford have recently been entertaining a charming southern writer, Mrs. Annet Andrews Ohi, whose forthcoming novel, "The Wife of Narcissus," will be one of the literary events of the autumn.

Writer an Untrue Prophet.

Said a writer in the Atlantic Monthly just before the civil war: "Washington is the elysium of oddities, the limbo of absurdities, an imbroglio of ludicrous anomalies. Planned on a scale of surpassing grandeur, its architectural execution is almost contemptible. It has a monument that will never be finished, a capitol that lacks a dome and a scientific institution which does nothing but report the rise and fall of the thermometer." The prospect must have been discouraging at that time, but what a change we find to-day. The scientific institution, whose apparent inactivity was the cause of such sarcastic comment, has given to mankind the science of meteorology. The monument is completed and it is the most imposing memorial ever raised by man to the memory of a leader of men. The capitol has been completed, and its dome, soaring among the clouds, is crowded with the emblem of freedom that symbolizes the highest national attainments of the human race.

WORN TO A SKELETON.

A Wonderful Restoration Caused a Sensation in a Pennsylvania Town.

Mrs. Charles N. Preston, of Elkland, Pa., says: "Three years ago I found that my housework was becoming a burden. I tired easily, had no ambition and was falling fast. My complexion got yellow, and I lost over 50 pounds. My throat was terrible, and there was sugar in the kidney secretions. My doctor kept me on a strict diet, but as his medicine was not helping me, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me at once, and soon all traces of sugar disappeared. I have regained my former weight and am perfectly well."

Had a Cheer Coming.

Years ago, when the G. A. R. annual department encampment was held in Boston, as the veterans were marching along one of the avenues a lady, who had secured an elevated position on a wagon in a side street, became conspicuous by the enthusiasm she displayed, and was dissatisfied with the lack of it in the by-standers. "Cheer!" said she. "Why don't you cheer? I guess you'd cheer if you'd lost two husbands in the war as I did."—Life.

Laundry work at home would be much more satisfactory if the right starch were used. In order to get the desired stiffness, it is usually necessary to use so much starch that the beauty and fineness of the fabric is hidden behind a paste of varying thickness, which not only destroys the appearance, but also affects the wearing quality of the goods. This trouble can be entirely overcome by using Defiance Starch, as it can be applied much more thinly because of its greater strength than other makes.

A Hopeless Case.

"Yes," said the business man, "I have given up trying to collect that little bill from Bilkins. You see, he is a big, muscular fellow, and he used to throw my collectors out."

"Then why didn't you employ a woman collector?" inquired a writer in Spare Moments. "He couldn't do that to a woman."

"That's what I thought, so I got one and sent her round, but she never came back."

"Why not?"

"He married her."

A Pardonable Fault.

Dr. Edward Everett Hale, discussing a rather snippy attack that had been made on certain recent statements, smiled and said:

"But who or what is blameless? It is like the case of the Scottish hen. An old Scottish woman wished to sell a hen to a neighbor.

"But tell me," the neighbor said, "is she a thegither a guid bird? Has she got nae faults, nae faults at all?"

"Aweel, Margot," the other old woman admitted, "she has got one fault. She will lay on the Lord's day."

Tom Ochiltree's Moon.

After Tom Ochiltree, that able congressman and laugh generator for the afflicted rich, settled in New York as the amuser of the John W. Mackay family, he effervesced in a thousand different directions, and was as good in some ways as Sam Ward. One night he escorted John Mackay's friend, the Count de Biscuit, down to the Battery to show the sight of New York. The moon was grand, and the count went into raptures as "her maiden reflection rippled over the pearly waters." He cried: "Eet les grand! Eet les grand! Dair les no such moon in all Italy!" "Count," said Ochiltree, solemnly, as he befit the occasion, "you just ought to see the moon in Texas!"

FAMILY FOOD.

Crisp, Toothsome and Requires No Cooking.

A little boy down in N. C. asked his mother to write an account of how Grape-Nuts food had helped their family.

She says Grape-Nuts was first brought to her attention on a visit to Charlotte, where she visited the Mayor of that city who was using the food by the advice of his physician. She says:

"They derive so much good from it that they never pass a day without using it. While I was there I used the Food regularly. I gained about 15 pounds and felt so well that when I returned home I began using Grape-Nuts in our family regularly.

"My little 18 months old baby shortly after being weaned was very ill with dyspepsia and teething. She was sick nine weeks and we tried everything. She became so emaciated that it was painful to handle her and we thought we were going to lose her. One day a happy thought urged me to try Grape-Nuts soaked in a little warm milk.

"Well, it worked like a charm and she began taking it regularly and improvement set in at once. She is now getting well and round and fat as fast as possible on Grape-Nuts.

"Sometime ago several of the family were stricken with LaGrippe at the same time, and during the worst stages we could not relish anything in the shape of food but Grape-Nuts and oranges, everything else nauseated us.

"We all appreciate what your famous food has done for our family." "There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

TOLD HIM THE TRUTH.

Dad's Indignation Got the Better of His Judgment.

An old German farmer, who resided in one of the rural districts of the state of Iowa, was the father of a half-witted boy, whose lack of intellect was the cause of no little anxiety and solicitude on the part of the paternal parent.

"Dot poy Shon," he was heard to remark in the course of a conversation with a neighbor of like Teutonic origin, "he iss not ferry bright, aber I ton't vant you to tell him because I ton't vant him to know it."

Meanwhile the young hopeful was driving through the barnyard with a load of hay, which in attempting to turn a sharp corner he unfortunately upset.

The old man immediately became highly indignant. "Shon!" he bellowed in a voice of thunder, "you iss a plame fool, you always vass a fool, you always vill pe a fool, you not know noddings."—Judge's Library.

CASE OF ECZEMA IN SOUTH.

Suffered Three Years—Hands and Eye Most Affected—Now Well and Grateful to Cuticura.

"My wife was taken badly with eczema for three years, and she employed a doctor with no effect at all until she employed Cuticura Soap and Ointment. One of her hands and her left eye were badly affected, and when she would stop using Cuticura Soap and Ointment the eczema came back, but very slightly, but it did her a sight of good. Then we used the entire set of Cuticura Remedies and my wife is entirely recovered. She thanks Cuticura very much and will recommend it highly in our locality and in every nook and corner of our parish. I. M. Robert, Hydropolis, La., Jan. 5 and Sept. 1, 1906."

A Folie Bird.

An Irishman who wasn't much of a hunter went out to hunt one day, and the first thing he saw to shoot at was a blue jay sitting saucily on the top of a fence. He blazed away at the bird and then walked over to pick it up. What he happened to find there was a dead frog, which he raised carefully at arm's length, looking at it with a puzzled air. Finally he remarked: "Well, begobs, but ye was a devil of a folie looking burd befor Oi blew ther fithers off o'yers!"—Judge's Library.

Wedding Customs.

She—Do all places have the same custom as we have in New York of throwing rice at the newly married couple?

He—No; in Boston I believe they throw beans, and in Milwaukee I have heard they throw beer!

With a smooth iron and Defiance Starch, you can launder your shirt-waist just as well at home as the steam laundry can; it will have the proper stiffness and finish, there will be less wear and tear of the goods, and it will be a positive pleasure to use a Starch that does not stick to the iron.

The easiest way to get popular with people is to let them bore you.

Products of Ton of Peat.
By experiments recently made at the Institute of Technology one ton of peat taken from a bog within 20 miles of Boston produced 100,000 feet of gas, 15 gallons of tar and five gallons of paraffin, and it is claimed from the six per cent. of ash innumerable by-products could be obtained.

A Stolen Trade Secret.

The manufacture of tinware in England originated in a stolen secret. Few readers need to be informed that tinware is simply thin sheet iron plated with tin by being dipped into the molten metal. It was discovered in Holland and guarded from publicity with the utmost vigilance for nearly half a century. England tried to discover the secret in vain until James Sherman, a Cornish miner, crossed the channel, insinuated himself surreptitiously into the tinplate manufactory, made himself master of the secret and brought it home.

The Camphor Habit.

A growing evil reported by Dr. Aba Szankay among the Slovaks of Upper Hungary is the habitual use of camphor internally. For 14 years he has persistently questioned buyers of the drug, and he concludes that at least 25 per cent. of the large and increasing amount sold is used by the camphor eaters. An increase in epilepsy seems to be a result of this indulgence.
